Bassmasters To Sponsor 3rd Tournament

On May 8 & 9, The Brookneal Bassmasters will sponsor the Third Annual Staunton River Stripped Bass Tournament. This Tournament is open to anyone who likes to fish. The hours will run from 6 a.m. on the 8th until 7 p.m. on the 9th. Only the largest fish will be checked with the three largest being declared the winning fish.

As was the policy last year, fishing will be legal anywhere on the Staunton River from Staunton River Park to Leesville Dam. The main check-in and registration point will be located at the Brookneal Landing located on the Staunton River.

Rough weather the last two years has seemed to hold the extra large fish back but with the unusually warm spring, the River should be full of big fish and anyone has a chance of catching some nice fish this year.

The entry fee has been held down to the same as last year, $3.00 per person with 1st place being $125.00 plus a trophy; 2nd place - $75.00 plus a trophy; and 3rd place - $50.00 plus a trophy.

Spout pulling can be a serious problem in young corn. The only recommendation that we have is the use of 0.25% strychnine treated whole corn. This material is locally available and requires only ½ pound per acre. It should be broadcast in the center of the field.

* * *

Tobacco growers need to keep plants watered and check for insects. When plants are ½ to 1 inch in diameter they should receive ⅔ per 100 square yards of 15%Granular Di-Syston. Di-Syston should be watered-in following application.

* * *

Don't use Sevin in the plant bed because it may harm young plants.

* * *

We've had a number of calls about ants. They can be easily controlled with Sevin or Diazinon.

* * *

Slugs are a problem around some homes. There is an effective bait that can be used called metaldehyde. A new chemical material is stale beer put in aluminum pans and placed at soil level.

* * *

When constructing pole buildings be sure to use ring shank or screw shank nails. Common nails will loosen when the building moves during high wind.

* * *

June 7 is a date all farm operators will want to remember because this is a deadline for compliance with certain OSHA regulations:

1. PTO's on all tractors and machines must be guarded after June 7, 1976. Old PTO's must have guards installed. Signs must be put on tractors specifying that shields must be in place.

2. After June 7, new agricultural machines must have guards at all nip-points and signs placed to warn of the danger of rotating parts.

* * *

3. Operators of farm machinery must be instructed in the safe operations and servicing of the machines they operate. Instruction must be done at least once every year, starting June 7, 1976.

* * *

The April 15 planting intentions show that corn plantings will be up 6 percent more than last year. Soybean plantings will be down 10 percent from 1975.

The could put corn production at 6.4 to 7.1 billion bushels and soybeans at 1,328 million bushels. For soybeans, this is sharply below the current rate of use.

* * *

Cattle on feed in the 23 principal feeding states on April 1 was up 28 percent, less than most people expected. Fed cattle prices are expected to stay in the upper forty dollar price range for the summer.

* * *

Strawberries are beginning to ripen but it's going to require some rain if berries are to have any size.

COOL IDEAS FOR SUMMER

The change-over from winter to summer living can be as simple or as complicated as you make it. Regardless of time and money spent, the conversion will result in a lift and renewed interest in home living.

First of all, you will wish to think "cool". Coolness brings to mind airier materials. These might be sheer materials, bamboo wicker, light floral prints in linens, lots of metals and glass. Instead of richly tufted carpeting thoughts turn to straw, henap, and various types of imported grass rugs. Even bright cotton loop or braid area rugs planned for definite locations where you would like bare polished floors to show, seem cool after all-over covering that is bound to be weary from spot cleaning and so much trampling.

Since the summer months are a good "test period" for trying out new colors, why not see if you like the idea of living with certain shades?

Color combinations which automatically refresh are the blues and greens, especially played against a background of white.

Try some yellow with green or white blue, such as for cushions, a folding screen, area rugs, or baskets for flowers. An all-yellow and white room can be quite effective for summer months by keeping walls white; slipcovering seats in yellow sailcloth or linen type fabric. Try painting an end table with whose finish you are displeased anyhow. Wicker furniture, both old and new, can be painted in fresh colors to work out a cool color scheme.

Light up the fireplace with a spiffy new coat of paint. Polish the brass, blacken the fire tools. If there is a mantel, sweep it down each 3 days. Dust plain cardboard storage boxes and hat boxes to match. Spray ordinary wooden coat hangers. Give hat stands and shoe stands a fresh coat of paint while you're at it.

Give pictures a new look with fine black and white etching with a border of sharp olive green, for instance; or remove the frames from a set of pictures and paint them several different colors.

Treat your beds to a touch of spring with new linens. Even a new top sheet and pillow case in one of the exquisite patterns or stripes available now would take the "hum-drum" out of everyday bed making.

Check your lampshades: are they getting gray and middle aged? Replace them with spanking, fresh new ones. You may want to wash those that are washable. This is easy to do in the bathtub. Allow them to dry on a bath towel.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Frozen Lime Mint Salad

1 20 oz. can crushed pineapple

1 - 9 oz. carton (4 cups) frozen whipped dessert topping, thawed.

In large bowl, combine both cans undrained pineapple, dry lime gelatin, marshmallows, & mints. Cover and refrigerate for several hours or till marshmallows begin to melt. Fold in dessert topping. Spoon mixture into 16 paper bake cups in muffin pans. Cover and freeze 6 hours or overnight. Peel off paper and serve on lettuce lined plates. Garnish with fresh mint springs, if desired.
